

Summary of ILRS 19th Workshop Station Clinics
Friday October 31, 2014 Annapolis Maryland USA

JCET website tools review
E. Pavlis

The JCET station clinic had a good attendance from all groups with lots of interest in the information provided through our websites and an even greater one for the QC Viewer s/w. We received good comments and feedback and various action items that we will address.

Of great success was the visit from the Russian sub-group (only two persons from VNIIFTRI participated), since we had extra time to focus specifically on their sites (Mendeleev 2 in particular), and the discussion may lead into a quicker resolution of their quarantine status now.

The time was a bit short for all the material available, but this fact may have been complicated by some video problems due to the incompatibility of the provided projector and the laptops used.